Two hundred people were in attendance at the Harbor Beach Club for the ball which benefits the Citizens' Scholarship Foundation, Old Rochester Chapter. This very enjoyable evening of dinner and dancing was the gift of the management of the club, who donated the room, waitresses, kitchen and band. Mr. John Mort, Mr. Robert Carrier and Mr. Ray Anderson, managers of the Harbor Beach, were presented with certificates of appreciation as was Joe Lafferty who cooked one of his famous chowder and fish dinners. Mr. Lafferty was also presented with a scrimshaw tie pin. Since the food was donated also by other generous people in this area, the scholarship foundation was able to raise $1,053.00 from this one evening.

Mrs. Goodenough, president of the scholarship foundation, wishes to extend her thanks to everyone who helped to make this program such an outstanding success.

Working on the project was the following committee: Mrs. Goodenough, president; Ted Lacey, vice-president; Mrs. David Johns, secretary; William Betts, treasurer; Albert Alderson, second vice-president; Al Morgado, John Pagenkopf, Allen Sherman, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gibbs, Harry Locke and Llewellyn Roberts.

OPEN LETTER - EDITORIAL

Dear Congressman Keith

On your visit to Mattapoisett Town Hall you heard the proposal for a Mattapoisett harbor described to you as "the dream of many Mattapoisett people". While I don't want to bicker about the words, I think the statement could be interpreted in two ways. One person's dream is another person's nightmare.

Even this administration, not famed for economy, would hesitate to construct a project of this magnitude without the slightest economic justification for it. So, while I'm not overly worried about the breakwater being rushed into being, I would like to express the view that a breakwater is both unnecessary and undesirable for the following reasons:

(1). Our harbor is our finest feature in this residential town. A breakwater would destroy forever the view of the sea that the town now enjoys.

(2). Unless this breakwater were of the massive construction of the New Bedford dike, hurricane waves would tear it apart and possibly block the harbor.

PANEL DISCUSSION ON DRUGS

There will be a panel discussion on drugs sponsored by the Mattapoisett Parent-Teachers Club at the Old Rochester Regional High School on Thursday, February 8th, at 7:45 P.M., open to the public.

(3) It is more than a mile from the proposed site of a breakwater to the town wharf and in that distance hurricane waves would have ample space to reform. Boats would still have to be removed from the harbor to prevent destruction.

(4) The Commonwealth of Massachusetts has just completed a wide ramp at Mattapoisett wharf to make it fast and easy to remove boats and with the improved hurricane warnings of today boats can be taken out in time and moved to safe ground inland.

(5) Most hurricane damage to the town occurs from flood water. Most economic loss to the town occurs to beach property outside the harbor. An open breakwater would do nothing to prevent flooding anywhere.

(6) It would protect not a single industry.

(7) It would protect not a single home.

If there is Federal money available to help Mattapoisett it should be channeled toward a useful cause. The town will have to have a sewage system in the foreseeable future. This is a project that would be of direct benefit to every resident and would be of enormous benefit to our harbor and coastal waters which are the town's primary attraction and greatest asset.

Had Enough? EDITORIAL

In his State of the Union message, President Johnson threatened the assembled Congressmen and Senators from retaliation by the voters unless they took prompt action on his 10% tax raise. Let's hope they will. Let's hope the voters will finally become fed up with the constant pressure for more taxes by this administration and the inflation which comes from the enormous deficits piled up in the socialistic schemes of the Democratic liberals. Let's hope that the voters of this country, who are carrying all of the load, will finally decide they have had enough of this irresponsible spending which has resulted in an inflation deliberately planned by the economists of the party in power.

Mrs. Emma Atkinson. They were assisted by the assistant stewards, Corrine Lawrence and Joseph Alves.

Mrs. Evelyn Linhares was voted into membership subject to initiation. Reports were given by the committee chairmen for relief, Home and Community Service and Junior Grange. A rummage sale will be held in the Grange Hall by the Eastern Star of Marion March 16th.

The lecturer's march was won by Christine Bence. Happy Birthday was sung to past master, Henry Howard, of Fairhaven, who was celebrating his 81st birthday. Other past masters present were Otto Kellish, Albert Pemberton, Lemuel and Mildred Le Baron.

The 71st anniversary program was presented by Lecturer LeBaron. Olive Gifford, in charge of January, February and March, presented Past Master Henry Howard who spoke on Grange and gave several humorous jokes. The traditions of each month were given by Mrs. Gifford. Mrs. Ruby Barber was in charge of April, May and June and gave a reading on "Gossip".

Corrine Lawrence, in charge of July, August and September, presented Mrs. Kellish who rendered several selections on her autoharp, including the "Bells of St. Mary". Corrine read an anniversary message, Walter Caswell presented piano selections and William Smith demonstrated a clay bird he had brought back from Mexico that he could whistle.

For October, November and December Mrs. Margarite Vaughan presented Mrs. Ada Furtado who read one of Edgar Guest's poems, "From Her Kitchen Window". A poem was given by Mrs. Gladys Pearson.

The judges were Mrs. Diane Spirlet of South Middleboro Grange, Paul Ouellette of Rochester Grange and Mrs. Mary Oliveria of Acushnet Grange. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Margarite Vaughan for the best decorated table, to Corrine Lawrence for the best program, and to Mrs. Olive Gifford for the prettiest cake and having a member celebrating his 81st birthday on this day, January 17th. The program concluded by all singing Happy Anniversary.

At the next meeting, February 1st, a king

"Kiss Me Kate" Due

Zavan A. Mazmanian, supervisor of music at Old Rochester Regional High School, has announced plans for the sixth musical production in the short seven year history of the school. "Kiss Me Kate" is the choice for area audiences to view this year. The date will be announced later.

In merry and melodious fashion the show describes the Baltimore opening of a revival of Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew", alternating between Elizabethan jests and twentieth-century sophistication as the provocative songs of Cole Porter unfold the story.

Mr. Mazmanian draws on a broad background of musical education and experience to act as stage and musical director.

Contemporary Theater at O.R.

DRAMATICS CLUB PRESENTS TWO PLAYS

"The Bald Soprano" was presented by the Old Rochester Regional High School's Dramatics Club on Saturday night at the school auditorium. This play was not written but was assembled by the author. Ten years ago, while learning English, Ionesco was struck by the nonsense phrases that his English study book contained. It occurred to him that these senseless sentences, if strung together and repeated by actors, might make a play. He assembled and called the result "The Bald Soprano". His friends thought the result was hilarious. It doesn't have that effect on every audience.

It's not possible to make any judgment, good or bad, on a performance using this material. Since there are no characters to develop, no plot to unfold, little motion and no reason, the only comment that can be made is that it was a feat of memory to learn these lines that have no real connection or continuity. Whether or not this memory exercise is worthy of the effort must be left entirely to the individual. The performers delivered their lines with clarity and authority and gave the impression that their talent was being thwarted by the extreme limitation of the vehicle. The fact that this group could work within these confines with enthusiasm led many in the audience to wonder what they could do with a play that was written.

In the cast were: George Fisher, Chris Hayward, David Helfand, Karen Martin, Nancy Prescott and James Lawrence.

The second play followed. "Krapp's Last Tape" was a solo performance by Ward

Abronski who also directed "The Bald Soprano". This play takes a defeated, dying old man and examines him as if he were a bug impaled on a pin. This is a slice of life. The opportunity to develop character, set a scene and a moment in time is used by Ward Abronski who created a good illusion. The sympathy of his audience was noticeable. Most couldn't help thinking of Krapp. While he might have been fascinated by some, others could not be entertained by a cruel exposure seemingly with no point except that his life is a pointless defeat.

All of us may wonder about the trend of contemporary theater. Is it the purpose of the play to tell a good story, to create mood, to establish character, to make ideas come alive? Should a play entertain? By illustrating the present trend with these two plays the ORRHS Dramatics Club has raised an interesting question.

Assisting backstage were Bradley Sell, lights; David Sullivan, publicity; Penny Denham and Pat Teixeira, programs; David Burnett, tickets; Craig Collyer, stage manager; Tracey Locke and David Sullivan, prompters. Mr. Zavan Mazmanian was adviser.

books to be brought in at the next meeting to be sold on her table. Square dancing was discussed.

The lecturer's march was won by Harlene Fearing. A workshop was conducted by Mrs. LeBaron, Mrs. Gifford and Mrs. Barber. Fun musical instruments were made out of heavy cardboard. This was a successful project and will be completed Friday night, January 26th, at the regular meeting, when a possible rehearsal with music will be held. Those not working on instruments worked on seed pictures showing good talent in this particular art.

HR-10

Today most self-employed business or professional men want to provide an adequate and guaranteed retirement income when their working days are over.

No doubt in these times of high taxes and uncertain investment yields, you find it difficult to set aside sufficient savings from today's income for tomorrow's pension.

In addition you have been unable to qualify for the tax advantages which are enjoyed by corporation owner-employees with respect to corporate pension plans.

With the passage of HR-10 known as the Keough Act, the federal government has tried to remedy this inequity and give you some of the advantages now enjoyed by Corporations.

Briefly the law allows you to establish a pension plan for yourself and your eligible employees if any, and receive substantial tax savings.

(1) A "qualified" plan will help provide you and your employees with an adequate retirement income. (2) Beginning with the year 1968 you may deduct 100% of your contribution into the plan, but in no case more than $2,500. (3) The accumulated earnings on your retirement fund are free from taxation until distribution. (4) Under such a program your retirement fund will grow at a generous and guaranteed interest rate.

Call Bill Purtell if you desire information on any one of three Internal Revenue Service approved HR-10 Plans.

FORMER MATTAPOISETT RESIDENT IN FINALS

Mrs. Joseph L. Slattery of 138 Church Street, Wethersfield, Connecticut, is one of the 100 finalists in Pillsbury's 19th Bake-Off. She will receive an expense paid trip to Dallas, Texas February 18-20 to compete for a $25,000 Grand Prize. Mrs. Slattery has already won a $100 cash prize and General Electric range.

Mrs. Slattery, the mother of five children, is the former Sylvia Carlos, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Carlos of Cannon Street, Mattapoisett.

A NEW BOOKLET ON SOCIAL SECURITY

The Social Security Amendments of 1967, recently signed into law by President Johnson, provide for the largest increase in total cash benefits in the history of social security.

In the first full calendar year of operation, the new law will pay $3.7 billion more than the old law. Every beneficiary will get an increase of at least 13 percent. The minimum benefit for workers retiring at 65 is increased from $44 to $55.

The new law provides even more substantial increases for people who become entitled to them in the future on the basis of average earnings higher than $6,600, the maximum amount counted for social security purposes under the old law.

Jesse Mello, New Bedford Social Security District Manager, has announced that a new booklet "Recent Improvement in your Social Security, 1967 Social Security Amendments" is now available at the local Social Security office. The booklet highlights the more important changes:

...increases in monthly cash benefits ...new benefits for disabled survivors... benefits for workers disabled while young ...amounts beneficiaries can earn without reducing benefits...better protection for Armed Forces families...new provisions for coverage of clergymen...new medicare benefits.

For a copy of this booklet, call, write or visit your social security office at 749 Purchase Street in New Bedford, telephone 997-0721 Extension 263.

2nd Symphonic Concert

SECOND CONCERT SET TO FEATURE BIG BAND SOUND

Director John Pandolfi of the Regional Symphonic Band has some exciting music in store for his concert audience as the second concert for this seasons draws near. Those who remember the "Big Band" which was the surprise of last year's series will surely want to hear some more from this same source. Those who grew up with Miller, the Dorseys, Goodman and Shaw will be in for a thrill when the Regional Big Band takes over. In addition, the Dr. Zhivago theme should be of great interest to those who saw and heard the sound track of this recent movie. The concert will be this Sunday, January 28th, at 3 P.M. at
